

RESTRAINED REBELS TO BE USED

Grand Jury Declares It an Evil Needing Suppression. Indiscriminate Liquor Selling in Private Clubs and Liquor Selling in the Reservation Are Also Charged—Failure to Repair Paving.

CONDEMNATION of private rooms in restaurants, of the "promiscuous selling of liquor" in private clubs, of the sale of liquor in the reservation and of the methods of letting a recent county contract, form part of the report of the retiring grand jury, made Saturday to Judge S. J. Isaacks. The report also says the county courthouse is not kept clean, but commends the cleanliness of the jail. It recommends a fireproof building as a county hospital and urges that steps be taken for repairs to some of the street paving in the city, which has not held up to the contract guarantee. The report follows:

Wine Rooms Condemned.
"We have been in session 31 days and have examined 2 cases, found 53 bills, 15 no bills, and took no action on four."

"We recommend the establishment of private rooms and booths in restaurants, as we find they are a menace to the good morals of the rising generation."

"We find the promiscuous selling of liquor in chartered clubs to members and also non-members is very common in this city and county, which greatly interferes with the proper enforcement of the liquor laws. We have written the attorney general to take the matter in hand."

Liquor Sales in Reservation.
"We recommend that the sale of liquor in the Red Light reservation district be strictly prohibited, and every effort be made by all of the county and city officers to suppress it."

"We find the verbal contract made by the county for the filling-in of the county corral with caliche, at 40c per yard, the contract being for more than 100,000 yards, as a matter of fact, the filling-in of the corral was done with caliche, and we recommend that the county should be paid for the work according to specifications."

Countenance Dirty Jail Clean.
"We wish to censure the lax janitor service and unsanitary condition of the courthouse, the county jail, and in general its unsafe, unwept and untidy condition, showing dirt of long accumulation, and the filthy and insanitary conditions are unsanitary and bad."

"We visited the county jail and found the records as follows: 31 prisoners on that day; the jail is not crowded; it is apparently of modern construction, and the inmates generally well cared for; it is quite fireproof and kept clean; the food seems to be wholesome."

WILL NOT TELL OF HIS PLANS

Movement of Rebels to the South Not Yet Started, Says Benavides.

HERRERA'S CAVALRY IS AT JIMENEZ NOW

MOVEMENTS of Gen. Pancho Villa's rebel army at Chihuahua are being closely veiled by military authorities in Juarez and little reliable information as to the exact location of the rebel army said to be advancing southward against the federalists at Torreon, Gen. Benavides does not see fit to tell me what moves he is making with the army," said Gen. Benavides, Saturday morning, in Juarez, "and I have little definite information as to what is going on south of Chihuahua."

Herrera Reported at Jimenez.
Unverified reports reaching the border from Chihuahua say that 3000 rebel cavalry under Gen. Modesto Herrera are already at Jimenez, half way between Chihuahua and Torreon, and are waiting for the arrival of artillery from Chihuahua.

Immense Quantities of Provisions are Being Sent South from Chihuahua.
The Mexican Central to the troops at Jimenez. Gen. Benavides says the prevailing opinion in Chihuahua is that the federalists will not take the offensive, but will remain in Torreon. He argues that there are not enough of them to attempt an attack on the city.

Says Rebels to Attack Torreon.
Fifteen hundred rebels are near Pachuca, three days' march from Ojinaga, according to Gen. Benavides. It is at Ojinaga that the federal army under Gen. Salvador Carranza is waiting for the rebel column from Chihuahua, which is what the federal force is waiting for before advancing against Ojinaga, according to the Juarez command.

Field at Pachuca.
The rebel division is gradually growing stronger and will move to attack Ojinaga in the next 10 days. The federal army is waiting for the rebel column from Chihuahua, which is what the federal force is waiting for before advancing against Ojinaga, according to the Juarez command.

That Villa will attempt to engage the federalists at Torreon and those at Ojinaga at the same time is the opinion of Gen. Benavides, who says that the rebel leader has enough soldiers to accomplish such an end. The federalists at Ojinaga think otherwise and Saturday were preparing to evacuate the border town opposite Pachuca, Texas.

Chihuahua is fast resuming its normal aspect, according to reports in Juarez. Gen. Benavides says the federalists are moving their forces from the capital.

MEXICO GETS CAN TO PAY ITS INTEREST

PARIS, France, Dec. 20.—The underswriting by an international group of bankers of a loan to the Mexican government sufficient to meet the bond interest payments falling due in January, was arranged today through the Banque de Paris et des Pays Bas.

The group is composed of Paris, London, and New York bankers and includes Speyers of New York.

GUN AND TORCH TO BE USED

Salazar to Lay Chihuahua in Waste—Gen. Mercado May Be Executed.

OROZCO WILL GO TO SANTA ROSALIA

SHERMAN'S march from Atlanta to the sea will read like a Sunday school picnic by comparison with Salazar's march from Ojinaga to the border and the border to the sea. The plans, revealed to the federalists at Ojinaga are carried out.

These plans, revealed to an American rancher who has extensive interests in northern Mexico by a federal official, are claimed to have come direct from Mexico City.

The orders which were received by Orozco, Salazar, Carrasco and Rojas at Ojinaga are said to be to make northern Mexico a howling wilderness, as far as possible. Gen. Salazar, Mercado, former governor of Chihuahua, has been eliminated from the prospective campaign in the north because of his military record. It is reported that he will either be executed or sent to Mexico City for trial on a treason charge.

To Be March of Devastation.
To Jose Ynez Salazar, former rebel chief, it is said to have been delegated the role of the Sherman of Mexico. His orders, the federal official says, are to march from Ojinaga to Casas Grandes and the Mormon colonies, sweeping a path 20 miles wide for the entire distance. Juarez is not to be attacked at this time, the campaign being primarily intended to make northern Chihuahua untenable for Villa.

While the campaign of extermination is in progress, Orozco is to proceed up the Conchos river from Ojinaga through Chihuahua and Charcaras to Santa Rosalia, where a junction will be formed with the forces of Carranza. The march will march from Torreon and northwest from Monterrey. Orozco will be in command of this column and will have between 3000 and 4000 federalists and irregulars. No time will be wasted in the destruction of property along the Conchos. The objective point will be Santa Rosalia.

Salazar's march to the Mormon colonies is expected to start within the next three days, following along the Rio Grande for a short distance and swing southward along the Villa Ahumada road, crossing the Mexican Central at Villa Ahumada and the Mexico North Western at Casas Grandes. Both railroads are to be destroyed as they are crossed, according to the plan of the campaign, cutting the rebels off from Juarez and Chihuahua.

Will Harass Mormons, Report.
Salazar is familiar with the country of western Chihuahua and has been there during the Orozco revolution. He is most hated by the Mormons and his reported orders to exterminate the colonies, burn all houses, barns, stores and other buildings, and to kill the men, women and children, are said to be a direct threat to the zone are to be executed without trial and all known rebel sympathizers are to be arrested.

Volunteers Spurn Mercado.
That there is trouble between Gen. Mercado and the volunteers, there is no doubt. An American who was in Ojinaga last week said he saw Salazar enter the presence of Gen. Mercado without saluting and that Salazar shook hands with all others present, but totally ignored his generalissimo.

It is reported that Mercado forced the volunteers to evacuate Chihuahua against their wishes, because he was their superior, and that after they left the city, the volunteers quit him and went to the zone. This apparently explains why the volunteers under Orozco and Salazar reached Ojinaga before Mercado did.

By Constitutionalist Grapevine; Not By Wire, Says General
Declares No News Messages Have Been Received from Chihuahua Over the Wires for the El Paso Times.

"All telegraphic messages from Chihuahua pass through my hands and I want to say that the story printed in this morning's El Paso Times, purporting to be a news article wired over the 'Constitutionalist' line from Chihuahua, is a pure fake."

This was the statement Saturday morning of Gen. E. A. Benavides, commander of the rebel forces in the zone. "Whether or not the information in the articles was correct, I do not know, for I have not kept an account of the fully of military movements at Chihuahua, but I do know that the Times has been deceived by a message from Chihuahua since I have been in charge here and its stories dated Chihuahua have been fakes."

The only press messages from Chihuahua carried over our lines since I have been in charge, and I have been in charge here since Gen. Ynez Salazar was a message to the Associated Press Thursday night. This message appeared in the El Paso Herald Friday on its first page.

CASTILLO AFTER CASH; GETS $100,000
Villa has no monopoly on the forced loan Chihuahua. Castillo, Maximo Castillo is playing the same game. Castillo charges for all cattle exported, charges for the use of the land and charges at a flat rate per week for living in that particular district, according to the American mining and ranching.

It is estimated that Castillo and his band have collected $100,000, gold, since started operations in western Chihuahua. The cattlemen are now paying export duty of $10, Mexican currency, for each head of cattle shipped out of the country.

REBELS TO MOVE SOUTH TO GUAYMAS

Eleven Officers Are Among the Deserters Surrendering at Maytorena.

REBELS TO MOVE SOUTH TO GUAYMAS

MAYTORENA, Sonora, Mex., Dec. 20.—Deserters from the federal garrison at Guaymas, a few miles to the south of the insurgent camp, are arriving here. Their number, it is expected, will aggregate 500. Already 11 officers have surrendered. Among them was Maj. B. Figueroa, a member of the staff of Gen. Pedro Ojeda, federal commandant at Guaymas and commander of the cavalry stationed at the gulf port.

Many Lost in Mountains.
The enlisted men appeared in groups of five and 10, and confessed to suffering from want of water and food. The federal officers here say that many have not reached the Constitutional line here are wandering from ranch to ranch, or are lost in the mountains. It was said that practically all of the deserters were from the 10th battalion of infantry, numbering more than 500 men. These were disbanded following the discovery of a plot to desert in a body, officers and men, to the insurgent side. This is believed to have resulted in the capture of one-half of the 10th battalion.

Ojeda May Accept Amnesty.
That Gen. Ojeda himself would accept amnesty was indicated by a report reaching here from Piedra Blanca, the nearest point to Guaymas held by the insurgents. Col. F. Mendez, commanding the "Constitutionalist" force there, reported that the federal commandant here sought an interview with him under the agreement that each should leave his base with a number of men and meet on neutral ground. Col. Mendez said he had declined the offer, fearing a trap.

Plan to Occupy Guaymas.
There are 1100 Mayo Indian troops stationed here. The command of Gen. Juan Cabral and 1000 federal troops are at Ortiz, a few miles to the north of all of whom will be moved into Guaymas, telephone company is evacuated, and it becomes certain that there will be no danger of a rebel attack on the city. The federal forces will be in position to attack the city.

Deserting Federals Taken to Capital.
Ten officers and more than 500 men of Ojeda's army surrendered at Maytorena, Sonora, Saturday morning. The federal garrison at Guaymas surrendered Friday. The 10th battalion of the rebel base above Guaymas, and surrendered to the "Constitutionalist" forces. A special train will take them to Hermosillo today.

It is reported that the entire 10th battalion of the federal army at Guaymas has been disbanded by Gen. Ojeda, following the discovery of a plot to desert to the insurgent side. Three federal soldiers brought the news of the rebel forces. They said that all the officers of the 10th would be executed. The rebels are now in the neighborhood of Guaymas, which they would be unable to hold against the federal gunnery. The rebels have no artillery capable of shelling the gunboats effectively.

MISSIONARIES IN CHIHUAHUA LEAVE
Methodists on West Coast Receive Demand for Funds; Those in Chihuahua Have Been Closed by the Insurgents.

Methodist church missionaries in Chihuahua have closed up their schools and churches, and are preparing to leave the state unless $5000 in relief is paid at once.
